Weddings.

Miss Lucy Chandler, Leadbeater, daughter of Mrs. Edward Stabler Leadbeater, and Mr. Laurence Stabler were married at Christ Church at 8:30 o'clock last night. The church was crowded with friends of the bride and groom and was beautifully decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums, and the wedding march was played by the organist of the church, Mrs. Charles G. Lennon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Berryman Green, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, assisted by Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of the church. The bride entered the church on the arm of her twin brother, Mr. Laurence Chandler Leadbeater, of Birmingham, Ala., by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Dr. Arthur Snowden. The matron of honor was Mrs. George Galt Henry, of Morrisstown, N. J. The ushers were Messrs. Clarence C. Leadbeater, John Leadbeater, and Edward S. Leadbeater, brothers of the bride, and Henry Wattles, Frank Slaymaker and E. S. Fawcett. The bride wore a gown of white satin silk, trimmed with Venetian and rose point lace. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was crowned in white spangled net, trimmed with pink tulle and carried bridesmaid roses. After the wedding a reception, to which invitations had been issued to only the bridal party and immediate relatives, was held at the home of the bride's mother, and later Mr. and Mrs. Stabler left on a wedding trip. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Lloyd and Mr. Edward Lloyd, of East Orange, N. J.; Mr. Garfield P. Lloyd, of Princeton University; Miss McEaster, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. John O. Bentley, Miss Eiza H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Bentley, Miss Mary Bentley, Mr. M. L. Bentley, Mr. Richard T. Bentley, and Mrs. Kate Janney, of Sandy Spring, Maryland.

A very beautiful wedding was that of Mr. Kosciesko Kemper, jr., and Miss Ann Lee Greene in the Presbyterian Church, at Delaplane, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The church was handsomely decorated by the young friends of the contracting parties. The bride was Miss Ann Lee Greene, daughter of Dr. Hugh R. Greene and Mrs. Sarah H. Greene, of Delaplane. The ushers were Messrs. David and Hugh Greene, brothers of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Kate Greene, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Jennie Greene and Miss Sallie R. Kemper, and the best man was Mr. E. H. Kemper, brother of the groom. The members of the family of this city were taken up in a private car, tendered by Mr. E. H. Kemper, auditor of the Southern Railway Company. The presents were numerous and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. K. Kemper, jr., have gone south and on their return will reside in this city. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. I. N. Campbell, pastor of the church, and was very impressive. Mr. Kemper is a well-known and popular young gentleman of this city and holds a responsible position with the Southern Railway. The bride is an equally popular young lady of Fauquier county.

Miss C. V. Faulkner, daughter of Mr. Albert Faulkner, of Arlington, Alexandria county, and Mr. C. A. Rainey, of this city, were married yesterday by Rev. W. J. Morton at Christ Church rectory. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rainey left for an extended northern trip.

Mr. Rodgers Safe.

A letter received in this city from Key West, Fla., announces that Mr. G. R. Rodgers, of this city, who it was feared had been drowned off the coast of Florida during the recent storm, is safe in a hospital at Key West. Mr. Rodgers was employed by a railroad company, and when the storm broke a houseboat in which he and about 150 other men had sought shelter was blown out to sea and wrecked. Twenty-four men out of the 150 were saved, they having been picked up by an Australian steamer. The saved men had a thrilling experience in battling with the waves before they were rescued by the steamer. Mr. R. D. Rodgers, father of Mr. G. R. Rodgers, knowing his son was in the houseboat at the time it was blown out to sea, feared that he had been drowned. Letters were sent to Miami and other points during the past few weeks, but no tidings of the young man could be obtained until yesterday when his sister received the letter referred to above.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving Day has been observed as anticipated. The banks were closed, and were also the city and government offices, and the postoffice observed Sunday hours. Some manufacturers closed their shops, but most of the business houses of the city transacted business as usual. The weather was rather too cool for comfort, the keen northwest wind which set in Tuesday night having in no wise abated. Notwithstanding these conditions, many persons went on their accustomed Thanksgiving Day hunting trips. About the usual number of Alexandrians visited Washington during the day, while many from that city came here. The religious services which had been announced were well attended. The electric trains carried a large number of persons to Mount Vernon during the day.

State Taxes.

It may not be known to all taxpayers that every citizen who fails to settle with the treasurer for State taxes by tomorrow night, the 30th day of this month, will have the penalty of five per cent added to their tax bills. It is customary for many to put off the payment until the very last moment. Then there is sometimes a rush, and many find the last hour closing in before they have reached the treasurer's office in the City Hall, and then goes on the five per cent penalty.

The repairs to the rudder of the ferry steamer Callahan have been completed.

The New Electric Works.

Work at the plant of the Alexandria Electric Company, at the foot of Wolfe street, is progressing rapidly and should no unforeseen circumstances arise the plant will be ready to furnish electricity in a short time. The building is nearly ready for the purposes of the company. The foundations for the machinery, which are of concrete, are finished, and about half of the machinery to be used is now on cars at the works. The poles and wire are also there. The plant will be duplicated, so that patrons will experience no inconvenience should there be an accident to the machinery. Mr. Harry R. Fowler, erecting engineer of the E. Koler Company, of Williamsport, Pa., is now at the works superintending the erection of the machinery and dynamos. The company here represents has accepted the contract to furnish and place in working order a modern electric plant. When it shall have been placed in position and in running order it will be turned over to the Alexandria Electric Company. The machinery, some of which has been manufactured in Ohio and other parts in Williamsport, Pa., is of a most approved pattern, and Mr. Fowler says Alexandria will have one of the best plants in the country.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

Alexandria and Belle Haven Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, will hold a public meeting at the Opera House on Friday evening, December 7th, at which Hon. Z. P. Smith, ed. of the "American," of Raleigh, N. C., will make the principal address. Music will be furnished by an orchestra under direction of Mr. Carlton Padgett. There will be a meeting of the committee on arrangements for the public meeting at the council meeting of Alexandria Council this evening. The degrees of the order will be conferred upon one candidate. The Councils above named are the "loyal" councils of the order in this city and the decision recently rendered by the U. S. Supreme Court does not in any way affect them; nor will the decision in any way affect the funeral benefit feature. The effect of the decision is that it deprives the "loyal" branch from having a State Council, until the national organization makes other arrangements for them which will place the loyal councils on a working basis, which will be done at an early day. The loyal councils of the order in this city will, therefore, continue to carry on their work of benevolence and mutual helpfulness.

Personal.

Among those from Alexandria who will attend the Carlisle-Virginia football game at Norfolk today will be Miss Edith Ramsey and Miss Grace Anderson who will be the guests of Mrs. Ramsey's sister, Mrs. William A. Brown, in Portsmouth, and Miss Lisa Anderson, who will visit Mrs. Samuel W. Pannell in Ghent.

Thanksgiving Services.

The Ministering Children's League will hold its annual Thanksgiving services at Christ Church Parish Hall on Friday, November 30th, at 4 o. m. Donations of pound packages will be received and distributed to the poor of the city and in the mountains of Virginia. Dr. Wallis will address the children. All are welcome.

Preventions, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe from "taken at the source." Preventives are toothsome candy tablets, taken orally, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventives are also useful for children, and as effective for adults. Sold and recommended in 6-cent and 25-cent boxes by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

The American Magazine for December, which has been received from its editors in New York, is a really notable number, something important and delightful appearing on every page. Miss Tarbell begins her new historical series, "The Tariff in Our Times." "Mr. Dooley" contributes "The Christmas Spirit." "Out of the Heart" presents a Southern woman's view of the negro problem. A little Christmas talk entitled "Science, St. Sigmund and Santa Claus," is full of gentle humor. In the "Daily Banquet" Clara Morris tells of her first speech. The fiction is good. George Madden Martin begins a new series of stories. The monthly editorials by the staff are run under the title "In the Interpreter's House."

Kissed and Made Up.

Although eighty-one years old, John Davenport, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., charged by his thirty-year-old wife yesterday with assault and battery, declared that he only married her to keep his feet warm, and the case ended in their kissing each other and being reconciled.

Alderman Brown directed Mrs. Davenport to give an illustration of how her husband had seized her by the neck and shaken her. He did so, and the pair wrestled about the courtroom. This restored their good humor; they laughed at each other, and when a spectator cried "Oh kiss and make up," they did so with gusto. It was during the woman's testimony of how her husband neglected her that he interrupted with the exclamation:

"Well, I only married her to keep my feet warm."

Sells His Wife for $50.

John Schwarzer, who lives on the hills back of Honocadale, Pa., has shocked the good people of that section by selling his wife to Archie Hagan for $50. Hagan was a circus performer. He went to Honocadale last summer and settled near the Schwarzer home. A friendship developed between him and Mrs. Schwarzer, culminating a few days ago in an offer of $50 by Hagan for the woman. The wife was willing, and paid the money out of her funds, her husband going with her to the bank, where her money was deposited. A justice was called upon to realize the sale, but he could not sanction it. The couple are now looking for rooms in Honocadale. Hagan is aged thirty-five and his new spouse is fifty-two.

Fight Against Tobacco Trust.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 29.—The tobacco trust is offering 14 cents for unstripped Burley tobacco here, which last year brought but seven cents. A member of the Burley tobacco association estimates that the fight made against the trust by the Burley company will bring to the growers of this county in Kentucky, about $4,000,000. Nearly every Burley tobacco county will be represented by large delegations at the tobacco convention at Winchester on Monday.

Killed at a Saloon.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—John Jania, a Pole, was shot and killed this morning in Mrs. E. Caminsky's saloon. A wedding celebration was being held with about 100 guests. TOYS, DOLLS and GAMES.

Our young friends now have the pleasure of seeing a very unique toy, The "Whistling Boy"—a wonderfully lifelike representation of a boy on his way to school, whistling tunes that he can hear to all. He keeps time with his hand and winks his eye, as if to say, "How do you like it?" This toy was built by one of the oldest toy makers in France, and is the most expensive mechanical toy ever put on the market, being valued at $200.

Another feature which will amuse the children most of all is "Misses Katzenjammer"—she is called in Leipzig. She is an old German lady we brought over from Leipzig to take part in our Xmas Toy Opening. She is the original Misses Katzenjammer, who was on exhibition at Leipzig, during the Toy Fair last March, and who was followed through the streets by thousands of children and grown folks.

She is here in her original costume, just as she appeared at Leipzig, and is ready to wish every boy and girl a "Merry Xmas."

There are many more unique and novel mechanical toys which you have never seen before and which will be "going" for your pleasure.

We direct special attention to our Department of Games and Juvenile Books, which is one of the largest and most comprehensive to be found anywhere. All the favorite old games, the new games just out, and a large lot of Educational Games, which are both instructive and amusing, are shown. The prices for games vary from 5c to $10 each.

Purchases made now will be carefully stored and delivered at your convenience up to and including "New Year's Eve."

We cordially invite the children to visit our Toy Department, on the Fourth Floor, where all the delightful "make-believes" which form so important a part in the lives of little folks have found their home.

The grown folks are also invited.

A whole lot of pretty, useful things to adorn the person and to brighten and make the home more comfortable may be planned from the large and varied collection of remnants to be found here tomorrow—and at a very little expenditure of money.

Bargains all over the store. The week's odd lots, broken assortments, one-of-a-kind things, short lengths—remnants of whatever kind—added to the extraordinary values that have been secured by our corps of buyers—afford most unusual opportunities for the economically inclined.
